Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 19 May 2005.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1,2,6,7 and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Jansen'859.

The Jansen'859 reference discloses an apparatus that fills a container 23 (that appears to be a flexible pouch) with a liquid, and which is connected to a refilling infuser 8. There is an air inlet 7, apparent attaching means for the pouch (note Fig. 3) holding it in a position with the inlet upwards and at a position at the distal end of the filling infuser. There is a supporting means 9 for a supply container 1 containing the liquid for introduction into container 23. The supporting means is adapted for positioning the supply container where the liquid will flow out by gravity. There is a source of compressed gas (see col. 3, lines 43-44) and a connecting means 20 (see Fig. 3) that connects the compressed gas source with the air inlet of the refilling infuser 8.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 10 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Jansen'859 in view of Johnson'760.

The Jansen reference discloses a dispensing apparatus including a broadly disclosed source of compressed gas (supra), but does not disclose the gas source as including a manually compressible squeeze bulb or a pedal actuated flexible bladder. The Johnson'760 reference discloses another dispensing apparatus having a compressed gas source that is actuated a manual pedal 54 that compresses a bellows or bulb 34. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to substitute a compressed gas source as, for example, shown by the Johnson reference for the broadly disclosed gas source of Jansen wherein so doing amounts to the mere substitution of one type of compressed gas source for another that would work equally well.

Claim 13 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Jansen.

The Jansen reference discloses a filling apparatus (supra), but does not disclose at least two filling apparatuses. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have at least two filling apparatuses, since it has been held that mere duplication of the essential working parts of a device involves only routine skill in the art. St. Regis Paper Co. v. Bemis Co., 193 USPQ 8.

Conclusion

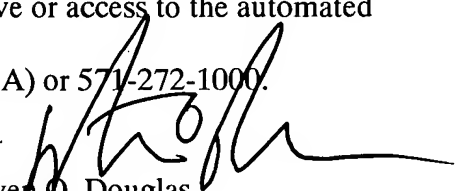

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The Hood, Choksi et al., and Ueda reference pertain to infusion bag systems.

Claims 3-5,8 and 9 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
